HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH
BITTERS

The Want of a Reliable Diuretic

Which, while acting as a stimulant of the kidneys, neither excites nor irritates them, was long since supplied by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This fine medicine exerts the requisite degree of stimulation upon these organs, without producing irritation, and is, therefore, far better adapted for the purpose than unmedicated excitants often resorted to. Dyspepsia, fever and ague, and kindred diseases, are all cured by it. For sale by all druggists and dealers generally.

A Story of Democratic Misrule.

Within the next four months the Democratic party will have a presidential ticket in the field and be asking the people to entrust to it the government of the nation. It will beg to be judged, not by its record in national affairs, for it has no such record of which it is not ashamed, but by lavish promises of what it will do if given the opportunity. In politics, as well as in business, it is always considered risky to trust a party that has nothing but promises to bank upon; and the risk is doubled and trebled when a long catalogue of violated agreements loom up in the past. Let us see what the record of the Democracy is in this respect.

Virginia offers one of the most recent illustrations, and here is the unvarnished history of the case:

In 1879 the fight over the state debt question split the Virginia democracy into two factions. The party had held undisputed control of the state for years, but the finances were allowed to drift into inextricable confusion, until the unpaid interest on the public obligation almost equaled the principal. The readjuster faction boldly proclaimed its purpose of scaling down the debt and of paying the remainder.

The regular democratic organization made a feeble fight for honesty and were defeated, and went out of power leaving a bankrupt treasury behind them. Since then they have filled the nation with their lamentations over the dishonor done to Virginia and proclaimed their eagerness to right the wrong.

The readjusters have received little support from outside the state, notwithstanding the fact that they have kept their promises rigidly and done much to liberalize the laws and start the state on a new career of prosperity. And the republican press has been especially severe in its criticisms of Senator Mahone's financial ideas and political methods.

Thus the case stood last year, when the bourbons determined to make a desperate effort to recover the state. To aid them they deliberatly set about raising the race issue, though Virginia has a large majority of white voters and had never suffered from carpet-bag government. Democratic methods finally resulted, as it was probably intended they should, in the riot at Danville in which a number of colored men were killed and thousands of voters were prevented by fear from going to the polls. Well, the bourbons won. The election had been for members of the legislature, and a democratic majority was gained in each branch.

How did they improve their opportunity? Almost the first thing done was to pass a resolution reciting the purpose of the democrats to acquiesce in the debt settlement of the readjusters, though, as the opponents of it, they had sought and gained much sympathy. The next move was to get the law-making power completely in their own hands. To do this they had to obtain a two-thirds majority in both houses of the legislature, as the governor was opposed to them politically, and they bent themselves to the task with due diligence. Every readjuster whose election was contested was promptly unseated. This, however, did not suffice and cases were cooked up and men who put forth no claim to an election were given seats. And still the desired majority was not reached. Then flimsy pretexts were taken advantage of to declare elections void and, with these seats vacant, the needed number was gained. In all, fifteen readjusters were unseated.

With indecent haste the bourbons passed laws taking from the governor his power of appointment and giving the control of the state institution, the elections, the judiciary and the schools into the hands of the legislature. In order to secure a shameless gerrymander of the state into congressional districts, the bourbons held a legislative session on Washington's birthday, knowing that some of the members whose seats had been declared vacant had been re-elected and would return the following day and end the ability to pass laws over the governor's veto. Nothing was left undone which could aid the democrats in keeping the state under their control, the good of the party and not of the state being the one object kept constantly in view. This is the story, unvarnished by rhetoric, of three months of restored bourbon rule in Virginia. How do you like it? And how would you like to see the same party given a similar opportunity in the nation?—Phila. Press.

Wonders Never Cease.

A long time ago the wise man said there is nothing new under the sun, but yet the daily experience of hundreds seem to prove this false. Some contend that the days of miracles are past, but yet it appears as if they are not yet gone by when such men as I. N. Tidball, of Washington, Pa., give the following remarkable testimony:

"I have been a severe sufferer from chronic rheumatism and kidney affection for over twenty years, and after having tried nearly everything without getting relief, commenced using PERUNA a few months ago. The benefit I have received is wonderful. I feel like a new man, and am fully restored to health."

Surely such a cure is remarkable, and none should hesitate any longer about using PERUNA, the great remedy discovered by Dr. Hartman. Send to your druggist for a bottle, and ask for his book on the "Ills of Life."

Danger.

Do you know that you are liable to attacks of Dyspepsia and all kinds of Stomach Derangements? Yes, worse still, to that result of Kidney and Liver disorder that is known as Diabetes or possibly Bright's Disease. They are often fatal and that in a very short time. Loss of Appetite, Sour Stomach, Dimness of Vision, Dizziness, Pains in side and Back and many others are but the symptoms of disease. Be wise in time. Parmlee's Dyspepsia, Diabetes, Kidney and Liver Cure is the sovereign remedy. Large bottles $1. Sold by A. B. Armstrong and E. B. McCoy.

SINGULAR that the word miser, so often expressive of one who is rich, should in its origin signify one that is miserable.

Do you ever have acute pains in your left breast extending to your arms, do you ever have suffocating feelings in region of your heart? If so you have Heart Disease. Use Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator, a sure specific. $1 per bottle.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 16, '82.

Gentlemen—I have taken but two bottles of your Rheumatic Syrup, but have received more benefit from it than from any and all remedies I have tried. I have improved every day since I first commenced its use, and I am confident that there is no case of rheumatism that the Rheumatic Syrup will not cure, if the patient will adhere closely to the directions for its use, and use proper care about exposing themselves. Yours truly,

FRANK R. ARMSTRONG,
With Burke, Fitz Simmons, & Co.

Rheumatic Syrup Co.: CLYDE, N. Y.

Gentlemen—I have been troubled with rheumatism in my ankles and feet for over one year. Have tried several remedies, but found nothing to relieve me or stop pain. I commenced taking Rheumatic Syrup, and in less than two weeks all pain had left me, and to-day I am as well as ever. It is a sure cure for rheumatism. MRS. ALBERT GRAHAM.

Scientific Investigation

Has proved that nothing but a direct application can cure the many forms of Piles, that so trouble all classes of mankind. In all forms of Piles, immediate and careful attention is heeded. By faithfully following the direction given with each box of Parmlee's Pile Suppositories a cure is certain. Warranted to give immediate relief. Price 50 cents per box. Sold by A. B. Armstrong and E. B. McCoy.

Coughs and Colds

Are the inevitable results of sudden changes in the weather. Immediate attention should be given them so that they may not become established and result in Bronchitis, Congestion, Inflamation or even consumption. Hamilton's Cough Balsam soothes the irritated membrane, and assists in removing Phlegm and Mucus, that, by its adhesion to the membranes, causes Violent Coughing. Great relief is received by even those in the Last Stages of Consumption. In croup and whooping cough it is unequaled. Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by A. B. Armstrong and E. B. McCoy.

A Pithy Sentence.

A well known statesman of this country once said when summing up the events of a lifetime: "Youth is a blunder, manhood a struggle, old age a regret." He might have added many more wonders, but they are not necessary, for his ephegram expresses much. Yet it is a well known fact that the above could not be said of life were all classes aware what a great remedy PERUNA is, and what wondrous cures it has performed. For the ills of youth it is a wondrous specific. The worry and tear of manhood's struggle for existence enfeeble his system, and he needs such a tonic, and when old age comes on with its feebleness and regrets for failures and mistakes, the great remedy, PERUNA, can still be used, with good effect, and if given a fair trial will accomplish wonders.

An Anglo-Maniac's Blunder.

A story is told of a young sophomore, the newly-appointed editor of a college paper in New England, who, on his way home in vacation some years ago, made the acquaintance of a quiet gentleman on a railroad train. 'Englishman, I perceive,' airily began our college boy.

The stranger bowed.

'You must find much to amuse you in this country. We are so very crude, so new!' said the sophomore, who was an Anglo-maniac. 'There is one thing, however, on which I flatter myself we compare favorably with John Bull—our newspapers. The journalists of this country rank high, sir—high!'

Having received a civil reply, he continued: 'I am myself an editor. Like to look at a copy of our paper?' pulling out a small sheet from his pocket. 'Now, you have no idea—nobody not in the profession can have any idea—of the labor and menal strain involved in that small sheet. Keep it. There may be a paragraph or two in it that is worth considering, even if it does come from this side of the water?'

His companion changed his place soon afterward, and the amused conductor, who had overheard the conversation, said to the young man:

'Do you know who that was?'

'No.'

'It was Mr. Walter of the London Times.'

Thousands Hastened to Their Graves!

Relying on testimonials written in vivid glowing language of some miraculous cures made by some largely puffed up doctor or patent medicine has hastened thousands to their graves; believing in their almost insane faith that the same miracles will be performed on them, and that these testimonials make the cures, while the so called medicine is all the time hastening them to their graves. We have avoided publishing testimonials, as they do not make the cures, although we have

of them, of the most wonderful cures, voluntarily sent us. It is our medicine, Hop Bitters that makes the cures. It has never failed and never can. We will give reference to any one for any disease similar to their own if desired, or will refer to any neighbor, as there is not a neighborhood in the known world but can show its cures by Hop Bitters.

A LOSING JOKE.

A prominent physician of Pittsburg said to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health, and of his inability to cure her jokingly said: "Try Hop Bitters!" The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

FEES OF DOCTORS.

The fee of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in. We believe the schedule for visits is $3, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.

A LADY'S WISH.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters that makes pure, rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me as you observe."

GIVEN UP BY THE DOCTORS.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters, and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die, from Kidney and Liver trouble!"

of Dennis' Blood Liver and Kidney Cure for scrofula: A son of R. W. Bull, now 17 years of age, living at Coleville, Pa., was always a sickly, suffering boy; the parents having done all they could do, and the doctors pronounced him incurable unless by amputation of one leg and arm on which there were several running sores. But since using 16 bottles of the above medicine, at $1 per bottle, the boy is to all appearances sound, and the remedy is giving universal approval wherever used. BY THE LIGHT OF DAY.

Past Impossibilities the Facts of the Present—Help in the New Era.

"I remember when they were putting up the poles for the first telegraph line in the state of New York, and now look there!" exclaimed a citizen of the metropolis to his friend, as the two stood on the summit of the tall Equitable Building in Broadway. "The city is strung with wires like a harp, and electric communication is the daily miracle of the world. People no longer wonder and laugh at it as they did at Morse when he first suggested its possibility."

The age marches on and prejudice must give way. Nobody has a monopoly of truth. Even the conservative guild of physicians admit, that the secrets of medicine are shared by all men. "I dressed his wound, and God healed him," said old Paré. Once that terrible disease, Rheumatism, was supposed to be a shifting, local ailment, now attacking the joints and the muscles. To-day it is demonstrated to be a disease of the blood.

Mrs. Henry Bogert, of No. 451 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes to Messrs. Hiscox & Co., of New York, proprietors of PARKER'S TONIC, that "she had been completely disabled from Rheumatism and pain in the back and limbs. She was advised to take the Tonic for Kidney Disease. She did so, and her Rheumatism disappeared." The reason is simple. Diseased Kidneys produced rheumatic symptoms. Cure them and you destroy Rheumatism. This is now admitted, by all intelligent physicians. It is the new light thrown on their time-worn and mistaken theories.

PARKER'S TONIC which is a combination of the best remedies for the blood known to science, is universally successful in combating this terribly common complaint. Those who, like Mrs. Bogert, suffer from Kidney or Liver diseases or any complaint arising from impure blood, will find the Tonic a prompt and certain remedy. Prices, 50c. and $1 per bottle. The larger size the cheapest.

How Watch Cases are Made.

This process of manufacture was invented by James Boss, who started in business in 1854, and the methods and tools used in making these watch cases are covered by patents. This is the only watch case made under this process. For many years the introduction of these goods was slow, owing to popular prejudice against "plated" goods, but gradually the public learned that the James Boss' Gold Watch Case was not a cheap, gold-washed or electro-plated article, but was made of genuine gold plates of standard quality and thickness. Conscientious adherence to the determination to make the best watch case ever put on the market, and the adoption of every improvement suggested, has made the James Boss' Gold Watch Case the STANDARD. In this watch case the parts most subject to wear—the bow, crown, hinges, thumb-catches, etc., are made of SOLID GOLD.

THE CALL FOR REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The Republican state convention will be held in [illegible] on Wednesday, April 16th, 1884, at [illegible] for the purpose of selecting [illegible] delegates-at-large to the National Republican convention [illegible] electors [illegible] congressman-at-large, and the [illegible] such other business as may be [illegible]

[illegible]

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

FOR DELEGATE-AT-LARGE.

The name of Hon. Lucius Emery of McKean county was presented to [illegible] convention as a candidate for Delegate-at-Large to the Republican National Convention.

The Franklin county republicans sent an exceptionally able delegation to the state convention in the persons of [illegible] John Stewart, Hon. [illegible] Comley, editor of the Repository [illegible] business men of the county.

It is said that Geo. W. Merrick, Esq., of Wellsboro, will be one of the delegates from Tioga county to the [illegible] convention. Mr. Merrick is a man of ability and will be heard in the convention of this [illegible] of [illegible] methods.

The Washington newspaper correspondents are doing their level best to make trouble in the congressional [illegible] of this state and they are paying [illegible] attention to each and each district which can get along very well without their interference.

The Lycoming county republicans in their convention Wednesday named [illegible] Hall as their choice for delegate-at-large, with the privilege of selecting his own conferees to the district convention. A resolution instructing for James G. Blaine was unanimously adopted.

The big-hearted J. Blake Walters, formerly of Dover, editor of the [illegible] has the sympathy of the best people all over the state in his fight with the Harrisburg and [illegible] machine. He's too good a man to go to a democratic convention, but [illegible] going we hope he will get there.

[illegible] the burning up of the old capitol building at Harrisburg would prove of great benefit to the people of the commonwealth. The [illegible] of the Legislative Record would probably cease from that date until a month or two after the next legislature had convened. [illegible] such a misfortune!

[illegible] the chairman of the Lycoming county republican committee has [illegible] his name to be appended to the call for a district convention to select delegates to Chicago it would be [illegible] only for the Wellsboro Agitator to point his name at the bottom of the call as is the other chairmen. We presume the omission is not intentional.

The new postoffice building in Philadelphia is said to be the finest government building in this country outside of Washington. It is a granite structure, and occupies the entire front on Ninth street of the square between Chestnut and Market. Its total length on Ninth street is 135 and on Chestnut and Market 175 feet. From the pavement to the top of the dome the distance is 164 feet. The entire cost of the ground, building, furniture and machinery was $6,000,000. It is lighted [illegible]

DISCREPANCY IN REPRESENTATION.

The subject of fair representation in political conventions is one which is attracting very general attention throughout the country. Senator Ely of Mass. called attention to this subject at the meeting of the National convention in January last and the statement by him showed the utter absurdity of the principle of representation which was now in vogue in the organization of national conventions. A circular was issued on the 18th ult. by the [illegible] Republican conference committee in New York showing the Republican vote in each state in the last Presidential election and the number of delegates to the national convention to which each state is entitled. It appears that in the four northern states of New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana there is one delegate to every 7,757 while in the four southern states Mississippi, Texas, Georgia and Louisiana the representation in the convention is one to every 2,[illegible] Republican voters. It will be suggested that the next convention shall provide that in future national conventions the representation shall be proportional to the republican votes of the states and congressional districts respectively, and some more equitable basis of representation will be adopted. At the meeting of the Washington county Republican convention held in Washington, Pa., last month the following resolution was adopted:

Fifth. That our delegates to the state convention this day selected be hereby instructed to offer a resolution in that convention providing for such a change in the basis of representation in future state conventions as will allow each legislative district one delegate for every [illegible] of Republican votes and fraction thereof [illegible] the vote cast at the preceding presidential election, and providing also for the entire abolition of senatorial delegates.

It is no more than justice to the Republican counties of the state and in fact to the Republicans of every county that some basis of representation like that proposed in the foregoing resolution should be adopted. We have heretofore requested that this basis of representation should not be urged in the congressional district this year on the ground that the being the last year of the district it was hardly worth while to raise the issue. But the eminent fairness of the proposition compels us to say that there is no good reason why the question of representation should not also be settled at the district convention to elect delegates to Chicago.

The Albany Evening Journal recently changed hands, and the new editor proclaims the platform of principles which will be maintained by the paper under his management. It is one that might be very properly adopted by the republican national convention which meets at Chicago in June. He says:

We believe [illegible] in a protective tariff that are secured by a protective tariff that will shelter American industry [illegible] courage it to healthy competition with itself and broaden it until it can contribute a proper share in supplying the markets of the world. We believe in thorough advocacy of civil service reform, stripped of sense and sentiment and impracticabilities. We believe in a free and independent discussion of all party questions within [illegible] [illegible] is fixed in [illegible] from which the policy is settled. [illegible] and although mistakes may be made their ill effects need not be lasting, and with a proper regard for the lessons of experience may be made contributory to harmony and success. We advocate the abolition of all internal revenue taxes except those on whiskey and tobacco for the double purpose of diminishing the Federal revenues as far as necessitated [illegible] tariff and giving through a slower liquidation of the public debt, continued security to the unrivaled banking system based on the perfect security of government bonds. This policy has the still further advantage of discouraging the drug [illegible] for questionable appropriations of the public funds by restricting the volume of income from customs [illegible] to the absolute needs of the public service. The continued change of silver coinage [illegible] financial credit of the country is an evil of the great [illegible] and will be earnestly opposed. Political cleanliness and the elimination of corrupt blood to that end is one of the [illegible] of the day, a demand that public agitation should aggressively insist upon and in which the Evening Journal will cordially unite.

Hon. James H. Brady, formerly represented the Lehigh district in congress. He is a man of large political experience and excellent judgment. He was recently requested to become a candidate for delegate to the Chicago convention, and replied as follows:

I unhesitatingly say that Mr. Blaine is my choice for president, not only because of his great merit and ability which alone would be ample endorsement, but also on account of my personal knowledge and esteem of the man. I would not only vote for him in the convention, but would employ every proper influence in behalf of his nomination. The only reason that I could imagine why Blaine should not be nominated this year would be, if united delegations from the states of Ohio and New York should say that he could not carry those states. Coming directly from the people, as these delegations will, I am of the opinion that no such allegation can or will be made at Chicago. The time was, in 1876 and 1880, when the peculiar antagonisms between the different elements of the republican party forbade the nomination of Mr. Blaine and I then said openly that there would be grave danger in his nomination. The circumstances have now changed. Most if not all the difficulties that affected our party then have happily disappeared and with the [illegible] exceptions herein referred to Mr. Blaine's nomination would be the inauguration of a brilliant and successful campaign.

Col. Jno. A. Hiestand, principal editor of the Lancaster Examiner, has announced himself as a candidate for congress in the Lancaster district. Hon. A. Herr Smith has represented that county in congress several terms, and long enough to have made his mark if there was much in him. He has failed to fill the seat of the "Old Commoner," or even Colonel Dickey, and it is time he is retired. We hope "Jack" will be successful in his aspirations.

The Philadelphia Record recently stated that Senator Mitchell is not disappointing the hopes and design of his projectors. Little was expected of him, and his vote against the Fitz John Porter bill is an act that proves that he will justify expectation. That vote expressed as thoroughly [illegible] public sentiment as Mitchell's old congressional district as any [illegible] cast since he has occupied a seat in either branch of congress.

The republicans of Northampton county recently held their convention and selected four delegates for the state convention, after which they declared by resolution that James G. Blaine was the choice of the republicans of that county for president. There was, [illegible] however, as Judge Richard Reeder who in a recent interview in a Philadelphia paper declared himself most unequivocally for Edmunds. At this distance it looks as though there was but little Blaine in that vote.

Inferences from Williamsport in the Philadelphia papers intimating have been thrown out that our member in congress, Hon. W. W. Brown would not be a candidate for re-election. We are credibly informed that there is not a particle of foundation for such a report. Mr. Brown is not only a candidate but expects a renomination and re-election by the people of this district. We can assure our ambitious friends of William sport that it is not in the woods for any one of them to warm Mr. Brown's seat in the next congress.

Ex-Senator Voorhees of Indiana is not a little more decent in the declaration of his political creed. He will one of these days find he is "set down" as a black republican by the low born free-trade wing of his party. At a meeting of Indiana democrats in Washington the other day he declared the following to be his platform of political principles: In favor of a tariff for revenue so adjusted as to protect American industry; the retention of the tax on whisky and tobacco; the forfeiture of unearned land grants; the perpetuation of the greenback and silver coinage; opposition to prohibitory legislation and equalization of soldiers bounties and of liberal pension laws.

The general assembly of Virginia closed its outrageous session March 13. The record it made is admirably shown up in another column in an article copied from the Philadelphia Press. It couldn't make Richmond [illegible] in its disgusting behavior without giving a parting kick at the direction of General Mahone. A resolution was passed instructing the clerk to send to the president a copy of the resolution adopted some time ago requesting Senator Mahone to resign his position in that body, with a request that the said resolution be read in the United States senate. This request will receive about as much attention from the president as would the whine of a yellow dog.

The contempt in which the laws of the United States are held by Mormons, was shown in a trial at Salt Lake City a few days ago. A dispatch from there dated March 19 says:

Andrew Mefarcn, a delegate to congress in 1882, an avowed polygamist who was indicted under the Edmunds law for registering and voting, is now on trial. Chief Justice Hunter allowed seven polygamist Mormons to sit on the jury. One of them has three wives. All seven swore that they believe in a Divine law superior to the laws of congress. They believed polygamy was right and would sooner die than defy God's law. The defendant admits marriage according to the Mormon law, but says the marriage was by proxy for eternity, and not for time.

In a late interview with a correspondent of the Philadelphia Times Senator Mitchell is reported as having said:

Our convention system, however, is not republican in any sense. That is to say, the democracy is represented to the same extent as are the republicans. For instance, Berks county gives a very large democratic majority, but has about the same number of delegates as Allegheny county which gives a large republican majority.

If he had said Lancaster instead of Allegheny his statement would have been nearer correct. Allegheny has a total representation of eighteen in a state convention. Lancaster with her 19,000 republican voters has a representation in state conventions of eight delegates while Berks' 7,000 republicans are represented by seven.

The rumor that was currently reported a few weeks since by correspondents of the daily papers, to the effect that Secretary Lincoln would resign in case President Arthur approved the Porter relief bill is now stated by the same crowd to be incorrect. An official closely identified with the administration in conversation recently with the Washington correspondent of the Harrisburg Telegraph, concerning the probable outcome of the Fitz John Porter case said:

I would like to make a suggestion for you to remember in connection with the future developments of the Fitz John Porter case. I have no doubt that the two houses will agree upon some concurrent legislation. The bill may be approved or not. Fitz John Porter will not be restored to the rolls of the army nor will he be restored by the present administration. I mean by that, that as long as Robert Lincoln is secretary of war, this part of this closing act of this long controversy will not be consummated. The president, in all matters relating to the subordinate acts of a department, defers to the wishes of its chief officer. I have reason to believe that Secretary Lincoln will not be a party to the reversal of the original sentence in this case. If any one imagines that the secretary of war lacks the courage of his convictions, he does not know the man. He has discretion and determination in no moderate degree. It is possible that General Porter will ultimately be restored to the rolls and reinstated, but it will not be done by Secretary of War Lincoln."

The Philadelphia Times recently stated that the latest candidate proposed for the Presidency is Glenni W. Scofield. The republican convention will make no mistake if it should nominate a man of Judge Scofield's ability and experience in public affairs. For those qualifications which combine to make a popular president he is the peer of any man named by either party.

The Philadelphia Press and its rural imitators are full of advice to everybody to get aboard the Blaine train. There is no hurry gentlemen. Better wait till the regular through train is made up at Chicago in June. If it is a Blaine train then well and good, we will all get aboard. All the people want is a genuine and true republican train that is sure to make the terminus without accidents, however it may be labeled. It is possible that some of these excitable passengers may get on the wrong train and be under the disagreeable necessity of changing cars when they get on the main line. Such things have happened and don't get into a perspiration.

There is much encouragement in the fact that the whiskey men have met their Waterloo in congress. The bonded whiskey bill, providing that the government shall take care of 74,500,000 gallons of whiskey until the owners could find it convenient to pay the tax on it, was overwhelmingly defeated in the house by over 100 majority. Nearly all the republicans and half the democrats voted against the bill and now the $70,000,000 tax will have to be paid without delay. In the interest of humanity, however, the loosing of this immense volume of whisky may prove a calamity. The amount of human misery, the murders, the brawls, the suicides, the defalcations, the loss of property and health, the divorces, the family shame and sorrow stored up in this amount of liquor is simply incalculable. In fact it is not too much to say that every whiskey warehouse is like a little volcano ready at any moment's warning to send its rivulets of distress and desolation over the country. No one needs distilled spirits except in sickness. Nobody in health drinks it with his meals as a cheering or digestive beverage. It is probably never taken by a healthy man without more or less physical or moral damage. In other words it is a huge national curse.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Justice Field, of the United States supreme court, warns the democrats that they had better go slow in attempting to cut down the tariff. He is persuaded a policy which looks towards a sweeping reduction in duties will be fatal to any party. As to presidential candidates he is not in the field himself and says that he favors Tilden if he has the strength to run. On the republican side he believed General Sherman could poll the largest vote.

The workingmen of the country, nine tenths of them, have nothing to say on the tariff question, and in spite of the cant of politicians they do not see how their lot is to be improved by throwing open our markets to the competition of the whole world's cheap labor. Not all the arguments of all the well paid agents of the Cobden club can make the mystery clear to them.—Boston Pilot.

There was quite a jubilant time in the executive chamber of Iowa's capitol when Governor Sherman was formally approving the prohibition bill recently passed by the legislature. On one side of the room were ranged the members of both houses who supported the bill while on the other were a number of ladies who had worked zealously in its behalf. After carefully reading the bill Governor Sherman picked up a quill pen and wrote under the legislative signatures "Approved, March 4, 1884. Buren R. Sherman," then turning to Mrs. Florence Miller he presented the pen just used to her, saying: "Among all Iowa's noble women who have neither fainted nor faltered through all this great and protracted contest, none have been more faithful and helpful than yourself."

Common Sense

An old philosopher used to maintain that men are really all alike: their varying fortunes being due to circumstances. In like manner it may be said that all men desire to dress well, the knowledge of where to buy making the only difference in their wearing apparel. One thing is certain—the best dressed men, and those who pay the least money for their clothing, buy of our firm. There can be no doubt about this statement, because it is founded on the plainest common sense.

First—Because we buy in large quantities, from first hands, and for cash. Hence, you see we buy right, which is more than half the battle in commercial warfare, and thus save a large percentage usually paid to middlemen.

Second—We give our customers the benefit of this percentage.

Third—We manufacture no garments but those which are made of superior material by expert designers and skillful workmen.

And last but not least, our house rests upon the firm foundation of HONEST DEALING. We allow no exaggeration or misrepresentation. All our goods are exactly as represented. Come and try us, or rather try our clothing, and judge for yourself.

Full spring stock received and complete for men, boys and children, at Goodman & Marks', one-price clothiers, 47 Main street, Bradford.

Important Notice

There are yet outstanding accounts due me for subscription, advertising and job work up to January 1, 1884 to the amount of $1,000 or over. Every dollar of it is justly due me and must be paid. If I could have stolen the paper, ink, &c. and cheated my employees out of their wages, I could possibly afford to lose or give away these accounts. But I couldn't—or at least didn't. Having no expectation or desire to be able to escape payment of my just debts myself I must insist that these accounts owing me shall be paid as soon as possible. I hope every man or woman knowing themselves to be so indebted will consider this paragraph personal to themselves and will call at once to see "the man who wrote that piece" and get satisfaction, in other words, a receipt in full.

Signed by H. F. Barbour.

For three winters I have been afflicted with catarrh and cold in the head. I used Ely's Cream Balm; it accomplished all that was represented. T. F. McCormick, (Judge Common Pleas), Elizabeth, N. J. (Price 50 cents.)

Fall Dress Suits—Greenewalds, Bradford.

An Important Church Document.

(Chicago Times.)

A book was known to the early fathers of the Christian church called "Teachings of the Apostles." It was quoted by Clement of Alexandria as a portion of holy scripture. Eusebius knew of it, and classified it with certain other important but not strictly sacred writings. Athanasius does the same, saying that, while it was not strictly canonical it was one of the books appointed to be read by catechumens. That book was lost, and nothing known of it by moderns beyond the quotations alluded to above, and the general character it sustained.

Singularly enough, this book, which belonged to an age which without it is poor in authentic Christian documents—the first half of the second century—has, after so long and so hopeless an oblivion, come to light again. It has just been given to the world by the accomplished metropolitan bishop of Nicomedia, Philotheos Bryennios. Its genuineness has been inquired into with great care by best experts in that line of Christian antiquities and firmly approved. It not only belongs to the oldest documents of the Gentile church but it is itself the oldest book of church order that is known. This is its peculiar value. Whether written in Syria or Egypt can not be determined, but it is believed that it will henceforth be the chief authority in determining the organization of the Apostolical church, especially as to the status of prophets, "teachers," "bishops" and "deacons."

It is a small book about the length of the epistle to the Galatians. The first half of it contains nothing that is not somewhere echoed in the writings of the fathers. The second half is measurably new. In its entirety it is probably the very beginning of the whole body of literature in the Oriental church. It treats of baptism, the eucharist, the signs of a true prophet, the choosing of bishops and deacons, the discipline of the heart and life, and the observance of the Lord's day. Whether this new book, breaking in upon the church from the time immediately succeeding the apostles, will reopen old controversies, it is, perhaps, too early to say. It is not yet translated into the English language. What is known of it here is through the German version of Prof. Harnack.

Wall Street's Latest Moral.

New York Letter.

A different kind of moral from any that Comstock points is furnished by the latest collapse of Allen L. Stockwell, once a king of the stock exchange. Stockwell's career has been like that of some others who have floated high on the Wall street wave, and suddenly gone under. In early life he knocked about a good deal in the west, picking up a living in various ways. Drifting eastward later on he became acquainted with a daughter of Elias Howe, the sewing machine millionaire, and married her. Eighteen years ago he appeared in Wall street with a capital of $2,000,000. He plunged into speculation at once and soon became well known. His operations were among the boldest in the street and he rose fast to a leading position. He took hold of Pacific Mail when it seemed going to pieces and carried the stock up from forty to 100, making a couple of millions by the rise.

Had he stopped there it would have been all right. But Wall street men don't always know when to stop. If they did there would be fewer wrecks. Stockwell next took up the Atlantic & Pacific railroad. That was where he stumbled. Gould was then getting his Pacific schemes in shape, and he found Stockwell in his way. Stockwell thought he was just as smart as Gould and he would not get out of the way. Gould set to work to "bust" him, or "knock him out," whichever phrase the refined reader may prefer. The panic of 1873 struck Stockwell under full sail and keeled him over. He tried hard to right himself, but had to give it up. Almost everything he had was swept [illegible] He disappeared from the gaze of the public eye, but he held to his seat in the exchange, and he has since carried on a small business in a New street office, where he hired desk room. Wall street had almost forgotten his existence when it heard a couple of days ago that he had failed on a small contract. It was a matter of only $500 that caused the collapse of the man who came into Wall street with $2,000,000 and had made several mil'ions more. You probably see the moral, so I may as well pass to something else.

Another Safest Part of a Car.

(Merchant Traveler.)

A party of merchant travelers in a passenger coach were talking over their traveling experience and the danger of accidents, and finally the question arose as to the safest part of the car. Failing to settle the question among themselves, they called upon the conductor to decide it, and one of them said to him: "Conductor, we have been discussing the matter of the safest part of the car and want to know your opinion." "Want to know the safest, eh?" replied the conductor. "Yes that's it." "Well," replied the conductor, borrowing a chew of tobacco and looking disappointed because he didn't get a cigar, "I've been on the road for fifteen years, and I have been turned over, smashed up, busted up in tunnels, dumped off bridges, telescoped in collisions, blown off the track by cyclones, run into open switches, and had other pleasant experiences, and I should say, gentlemen, that the safest part of the car was that part which happened to be in the shop for repairs at the time of the accident."

Truly Said.

(Exchange.)

When the Abbe Liszt was once asked whether he thought a certain pianist had talent or not, he replied, smiling: "He is a good man, at least according to Biblical precepts, for it can be truly said of him that his right hand knoweth not what his left hand is doing."

Getting Hungry.

(Detroit Buzzard.)

At one of our churches yesterday a little girl patiently listened for a long time to the sermon, and finally, becoming very hungry, whispered to her mother: "Ma, can we go home to dinner when he gets through telling this story?"

Drowned in Oil.

While a crew of carpenters were repairing the roof of an iron oil tank at Lewis Run on Tuesday, one of the number named Eichelberger, stepped upon a plank which being poorly supported broke through under the additional weight. The man dropped through like a shot, and before his companions could do anything toward his assistance sank beneath the surface. The deadly gas and the light gravity of the liquid rendered useless all efforts to save him and he and his death was almost instantaneous. There were 34,000 barrels of oil in the tank, and the workmen were three hours recovering the body.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Port Allegany has likewise the [illegible] [illegible] fever.

—You can now go trout fishing, if you are fool enough.

It is a singular fact that but few tramps are colored men. Why is it?

See advertisement in another column of "Girls wanted." Light work and good wages.

—Farmers and other workingmen can now eat their breakfast by daylight and quit work before dark.

—F. M. Phelps is a dealer in pure Plymouth Rock chickens. Their ancestors came over in the Mayflower.

—The Kilbourne opera house has been converted into a temporary roller skating rink and roller skating is all the rage at present.

A. R. Armstrong has something less than a ton of easter cards, and they sell very rapidly. The designs are more varied and beautiful than ever.

Rev. C. C. Hubbell will preach a sermon to the young ladies of his congregation next Sunday evening. Services at 7.30 instead of 7 o'clock as heretofore.

The residence of L. W. Crawford, near Roulet, together with the furniture and a valuable library, was burned last Tuesday. It is a total loss, as there was no insurance.

Those of our readers who enjoy the well selected miscellany on our outside pages will bear with us this week, as we have been obliged to encroach upon that space. It will only be for this one week.

A. T. Palmer expects a car load of Western Reserve horses in a few days. They will comprise heavy draught and driving horses, and are promised to be as choice a lot as was ever brought into the county.

The excursion train to Bradford last Friday evening under the management of Messrs Staby and Walsh was loaded. Many of our citizens took this opportunity of hearing and seeing the actor Mills, and others went over for the fun of the thing and to see a friend. Financially the enterprise was a success.

A kleptomaniacal Eldred farmer load ed his capacious pockets with onion sets at D. C. Baugh's store a few days ago, when he thought no one saw him, and walked off chuckling over his sharpness. One of our citizens happened to witness the feat. And he will do well to provide himself with means to pay the bill next time he comes to town.

While the Butler county commissioners were here they together with their architect improved the opportunity to visit John Digel's marble and granite works and inspect the silver mountain granite. They were more than pleased with specimens of this fine building stone which they saw both in the rough and finished. So well satisfied were they that in probability they will conclude to use it in the construction of their new court house. As this granite becomes more widely known its value is recognized among practical builders and architects.

Warm Sugar Party.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist Church, will give a warm sugar party at the Wright House, Thursday evening April 10th. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

He Politely Declines.

We mentioned in our last issue the [illegible] rumor that Mayor Broder, of Bradford was a candidate for sheriff, whereupon the Star of Monday says "Mayor Broder remarks with character istic force that whoever says he is a candidate for sheriff is a ——liar."

The apology is accepted, Mayor, and all is forgiven.

Not an April Fool.

Tuesday morning smoke was seen issuing from about the chimney of McCoy's drug store, and the hose company promptly rallied, but at first were a little doubtful whether or not it was a first day of April hoax. But a little investigation satisfied them that there was a chance for a genuine conflagration if it were let alone, which was soon destroyed by a liberal application of water. The burning out of the chimney and a defective flue was the cause.

Prospecting Commissioners.

The Butler county court house burned down last December and the commissioners of that county are preparing to replace it with one with a larger and more convenient structure. The fame of the elegant court house having reached them they came up to look at it Wednesday. They were Messrs Chas Cochran, Geo. W. Hays and Jas. Collins, and were accompanied by J. P. Bailey, an architect from Allegheny City. They were very favorably impressed with the architectural beauty and convenient arrangement of our building, and expressed themselves strongly disposed to adopt the same general plan with such additions and improvements as might seem necessary or advisable.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Joshua Davis and John T. Griffith, of Kane, were in town a few hours on Tuesday.

Henry Hartung has gone to Addison to secure a thorough course of treatment at Dr. Crane's cancer infirmary.

Conductor Staby has been compelled to ask for a temporary leave of absence because of a cataract of the eye. He has gone to Buffalo for surgical treatment, and his position is filled by W. T. Bogart during his absence.

Postal Clerk F. L. Aldrich has secured a transfer from the K. & P. to the B., E. & C. He is now able to be at home every night, and contemplates removing his family from Bradford to Wilcox.

H. M. Sweeney and M. H. Byles, of Bradford, have formed a partnership in the practice of law, and have an office at No. 6 Producer's exchange. Both are shrewd, active young attorneys, and will work well in double harness.

AN EXPLANATION.

Most men of intelligence in this country belong to one of two leading political parties and read the local papers advocating their favorite political opinions. In view of this fact, and in order to give as extended a circulation as possible among citizens of both parties, it is a law of custom (and in many cases, a written law) that all legal and official advertisements should be published in the leading and most widely circulated organs of the two great political parties in the counties of the commonwealth. Such has always been the custom in this county in the publication of the treasurer's sales of unseated lands, and the exultant propriety, fairness and justness of the custom is universally conceded. This year County Treasurer Melvin has disregarded the custom and confined the publication of the sales to the two democratic papers of the county. For the first time in twenty years, under both democratic and republican treasurers, the publication is refused to the MINER. As a matter of personal or pecuniary interest we make no complaint, for there is very little money in it to the publishers, considering the amount of space required and the length of time it must be inserted. The law allows the treasurer to add to the amount of tax on each tract a small sum, scarcely sufficient to pay a respectable rate to one paper, with which to pay for the publications of the sales. A former very sharp democratic deputy conceived and put in practice the brilliant and profitable scheme of retaining for the treasurer an equal proportion of the small fee allowed by law for publication. The questionable precedent thus established has since been adhered to. It is one of those "customs" that a treasurer is not likely to violate, and it has the result to reduce the printers' fee to so ridiculous a sum for the work performed that it is not worth contention. It is due the public that the publication of the sales should be given as wide a circulation as possible, especially among those directly interested. The MINER numbers among its regular subscribers more unseated land owners, local and foreign, than all the other papers in the county combined, and we may add that its proprietor is the only newspaper publisher in the county who pays a cent of unseated tax, and he pays hundreds of dollars into the treasury every two years. The publication thus far given is confined to the two democratic organs. All our subscribers expect to see the sales in the MINER, and many would otherwise be disappointed and put to considerable inconvenience. We think it fair that republican as well as democratic business men landowners and tax payers should have an opportunity of consulting the list.

For these reasons we publish the entire list this week, without expecting a cent of pay therefor, and only that our readers in and out of the county may have the benefit of an important publication, which they have a right to expect to see in the MINER, if in any paper in the county. In making this explanation it is not because of any unfriendly feeling toward the treasurer but simply that our readers may understand the matter and then draw their own conclusions.

Slightly Mistaken.

The Bradford Sunday Mail in the course of one of its wise political articles a few Sundays ago made the statement that "our friend John T. Griffith," of Kane, was a candidate for the republican nomination for prothonotary. Whether the statement was made through pure ignorance or for the purpose of misleading the friends of Mr Griffith we do not know. Certainly the editor of the Mail had no authority from him or any friend of his for making the statement. Mr Griffith is not a candidate for prothonotary, and has never had the remotest idea of becoming one. His friends throughout the county, in recognition of his personal merits and strength and the just claims of the republicans of the banner republican township of the county, are urging the presentation of his name for the nomination of sheriff, and it is probable that he will be in the field as a candidate for that nomination. But he is under no circumstances a candidate for prothonotary.

Young Doctors.

Evan O. Kane, a son of the late Gen. T. L. Kane, and Charles N. Williams, son of Hon. H. W. Williams, have graduated from the Jefferson medical college of Philadelphia, and received their degrees of M. D. last Saturday. An essay by Dr. Kane entitled "Description of a monstrosity occurring in the practice of Dr. S. D. Freeman" received honorable mention from the faculty. He was urged to accept either the position of resident physician or clinical assistant to the Jefferson hospital, but the delicate state of his health demands that he should spend some time in the purer air of the mountains of McKean. Dr. Williams expects to commence the practice of his profession in Philadelphia.

Second Annual May Festival.

The second annual May festival of song will take place at Bradford the last of that month, probably commencing the 26th, and continue one week. The great success of the festival last year has encouraged the managers to make more extensive preparations for the second annual. The following eminent Boston musicians have been engaged: Mr Karl Zarrahn, conductor, Mrs. Martha Dean Shephard, pianist, Mr D. M. Babcock, bass, Mr William Fessenden, tenor, Miss Alta Pease, alto; also the Mendell orchestra of Boston. Rossini's grand oratorio, Stabat Mater, will be rendered. The price of season tickets will be three dollars.

St. Luke's Church.

Services on Palm Sunday, April 7th, as follows: Litany at 10 a. m., Holy Communion at 10.30 a. m., and evening service at 7.30 o'clock. Services during the week (Holy Week) daily at 10.30 a. m. and at 4 p. m. on Good Friday, April 11th at 9 a. m. and at 4 p. m.

The Three Hours service of the Passion will be from 12 m. to 3 p. m.

This service will consist of meditations on the Seven Sayings from the Cross, followed by hymns on the Passion, prayers and silent devotions.

Good Horses.

A. T. Palmer has on the road from Northern Ohio a car load of horses which will reach Smethport some time next week. They consist of business and working stock, and as Mr. Palmer has owned some of the finest teams in the oil country, we expect he has some good patterns to show to those wanting horses here. They will be on sale at the Bennett house barn.

OBITUARIES.

Rev. M. W. Strickland.

Rev. M. W. Strickland, one of the oldest residents of Ceres township, died at Portageville, on the 13th of February from paralysis, aged 82. He had been a resident of the county over thirty years and was well known and highly respected by all the older residents. He was a Presbyterian clergyman, and in the years of his active ministry had preached in this borough and other parts of the county. He had six children, five of whom are living.

Darius Simpson.

A correspondent sends us the bare announcement of the death of Darius Simpson of Annin township, which occurred on Tuesday. Mr. Simpson was 83 years of age and the oldest resident of of the township. We will perhaps receive further particulars before our next issue.

W. S. Oviatt.

After long suffering for a number of years W. S. Oviatt, Esq., died at his residence on East Smethport last evening. He has been suffering a number of years from a most painful affection of the nerves of the face, requiring a constant use of opiates to make his life in any way endurable. Although he was in his 75th year it is probable that his life was shortened many years by the strain and wear upon his system caused by his constant and intense suffering. Mr Oviatt was one of the oldest residents of the county, and during his years of health and vigor held a prominent position in public affairs. He leaves a wife and family of grown up children all well provided for. The funeral will take place Sunday. Owing to the prostrated condition of his wife the services will probably be held at his late residence.

BRADFORD.

A good deal of excitement was caused by a bulletin in front of the Era office stating that 700 persons had been killed by the Cincinnati riots and that the city was being burnt by the mob. It was discovered later that the report was a hoax and was intended to make a big sale of evening Stars. It worked admirably in that respect as the sale of "Stars" was almost unprecedented.

John Brawley has hurt Hugh's chances for the office of prothonotary a good deal on the start, but by stepping in ahead of the Bradford men who wished to represent McKean at the state convention. These persons and a number of their friends are swearing vengeance at the Brawleys and will work dead against them, although they were previously strong in favor of Hugh's election.

The amateur journalists of this state have been holding a convention here at Pompelon hall for the purpose of electing officers the coming year. Mr Treat of this city has been serving as president and George D. Waters of Butler was elected to take his place. Mr George A. Berry tendered them a reception Monday evening at which all enjoyed themselves.

It is rumored that a Washington street hotel keeper has skipped out of town. He had drawn in the oil exchange awhile ago and left Bradford two or three weeks ago. Creditors are beginning to clamor for their money but find things all in possession of the wife.

The race between Koester and Chapman for the district attorneyship is pretty even although it is generally conceded that Koester stands the best show on account of his familiarity with the ways of the politicians. It is thought that the democrats will put up W. W. Mason as candidate, and if they do either Chapman or Koester or any other republican will be pretty sure of an election.

A constable of the fourth ward advertises at public sale "eighteen dollars in what is commonly called greenbacks." A sale of money itself is something new to the citizens of Bradford and will probably be of some interest to find just what greenbacks are worth in the market.

The Mayor is continuing the work of banishing the toughs from the city as fast as possible. There is a lot of them here and Mayor Broder will have a big job on his hands to dispose of them all.

Electric lights have been placed in the National Transit (late United) company's office here. They attract considerable attention at night as they give it the appearance of being broad daylight in the building.

The Melvin block on the public square is being torn down to give way as it is said to a handsome brick structure.

The bottom seems to have fallen out of the oil market entirely. It is now at $.90¼ and still going down. Plenty of lay downs are reported in the exchange. One quite prominent firm—Fuller & Homer being among the unfortunates.
